PEGILISTIC ENCOUNTER ON MARKET STREET,-The latest personal encounter and one which has shaken the city from centre to circumference, took place terday between Dr. George Baird, on the city dads of the upper branch of Council, and Mr. C. C. Johnson, of the Sunday Leader. Johnson was leaning over the counter in Moffat & Dickey's furnishing store, under the McLure House, about noon, his whole mind concentrated on the beauties of the different styles of striped hose displayed in the show case, when the burley form of the Doctor ad darkened the doorway. The Doctor ad vanced toward Johnson, and asked him who had written a certain article that had appeared in the Leader recently, in which he (Baird) had been caricatured for the parthe had taken in effecting the passage of an ordinance abolishing all signs suspended over the pawements. Johnson told him that it was not customary for journalist to "give awar". Johnson tosis and that it was not customary for journalists to "give away" their correspondents, whereupon the Doctor asked him if he considered himself personally responsible for the article. Johnson replied in the affirmative, and the Doctor, without further ado, went in on his muscle. He struck the newsmare, man awarel times about and, wen't in on its inductic. He strinck the newspaper man several times about the head and face, but was led away and chained before he got in his work to any purpose. Unfortunately, the affray was over, and Johnson had written a column and a half account of it for next Sunday' Leader, before the special artist sent for-ward from the Police Gazette office put in

ROOF.—George Crumbacker, of this city, is now fully prepared to put on gravel roofs in the most improved method, and warrants his work to give satisfaction, both as to resisting fire and turning water.
The tar used is put through a process that frees it from oil and benzole, and no matter how great the heat, it will not
